Sylvan Dell Publishing awards over 1,400 site license resource grants nationwide....

and now, all 35 of their titles have been aligned to national and state science and math standards!

MT. PLEASANT, S.C. (October 7, 2008) - In June of 2008, Sylvan Dell Publishing announced an unprecedented educational resource grant, hoping to further pursue its mission of "bringing science and math to children through literature." Who knew that a mere four months later over 1,400 schools nationwide would answer the call? Some of the states leading the grant pack include California (with 49 grants so far), Michigan (58), Texas (61), Florida (119), Arizona (37), Georgia (87), Kentucky (94), and South Carolina (65).

This outstanding response spurred Sylvan Dell Publishing to go even further in assisting early elementary educators. Not only is the grant helpful to teachers, but Sylvan Dell books are now aligned to all US state math and science standards. Alignment to national and state standards allows teachers, parents, and students to connect with Sylvan Dell titles. Visit <http://www.sylvandellpublishing.com/Standards.htm> for individual state details.

The resource grant is for a free, one-year site license, providing unlimited access to all 35 Sylvan Dell eBooks, featuring flipviewer technology with selectable English and Spanish text and audio. The license can be used on all school computers and may be placed on secure school websites, enabling students and their families to log in and have access from their homes.

Grants will be awarded to one elementary school per district and are open to every district in the United States. To facilitate submission, individual schools may submit the grant application directly. When more than one school from a single district applies, Sylvan Dell will ask the district contact to make the selection. In addition, the first 25 private schools to apply from each state will receive the grant. An easy online grant application is available at www.sylvandellpublishing.com/ResourceGrant.htm.
